FRENCH MINISTER DENIES EDITOR'S TREASON CHARGE

Premier, Poincaré Assures Deputies Full Investigation Will Be Made

WAS CHARGED WITH GIVING INFORMATION TO THE ENEMY

Deputies Vote Confidence In Action Proposed By the Government

(Associated Press Telegram) Paris, Oct. 5.—Today's edition of L'Action Française has been seized by the government. Its editor is Leon Daudet, whose charges against Louis J. Malvy, former minister of the interior, caused a sensation in the chamber of deputies yesterday.

(Associated Press Telegram) Paris, Oct. 4.—(Delayed)—The charges made against Louis J. Malvy, former minister of the interior, by Leon Daudet, a newspaper editor, were denied by M. Malvy in his statement in the chamber of deputies today. M. Malvy announced that he had been slanderously accused of abusing his position as minister to betray the country.

The former minister of the interior said that M. Daudet had called on Andre Maginot, then minister for the colonies, and accused Malvy in the presence of Maginot of going every week to Vaucresson, a suburb of Paris, to meet a German agent. M. Malvy declared that he never had gone to Vaucresson. M. Maginot arose and explained that when Daudet visited him he had declared himself absolutely sure of the information he produced.

Declaring that he wished to put an end to the "almereyda legend," M. Malvy said that he had never been on intimate terms with the editor of the Bonnet Rouge. He explained that as minister of the interior he was anxious to preserve order without resorting to violence. For that purpose he obtained the co-operation of the Bonnet Rouge which seemed to exert influence in certain circles. A year later, he said, his suspicions were aroused regarding the Bonnet Rouge and he reported the matter to M. Briand, who was then premier.

Mr. Briand arose and said that toward the end of 1916 he noticed symptoms of a peace campaign in certain newspapers. He used the censorship in acting against them and gave M. Malvy certain information he had on the new tendency of the Bonnet Rouge. He said he charged M. Malvy to watch the men connected with the Bonnet Rouge.

"I know he had them watched," said the former premier. "I must declare that M. Malvy, far from hesitating, gave orders to smite with the greatest severity."

M. Malvy defended his conduct during the strikes in May and June amid much confusion and accused the press of the right of campaigning against him. He concluded: "My conscience tells me I have done all my duty. I shall continue my task in the ranks of my friends."

Premier Poincaré asked the chamber to let justice accomplish its duty. He promised the chamber that M. Daudet would have to prove his charges contained in the letter to President Poincaré. The chamber then voted confidence in the government.

Further action in the case is awaited eagerly by the French public.

GUNMEN WILL TELL STORY ON WITNESS STAND IN COURT

(Associated Press Telegram) Philadelphia, Oct. 5.—Six alleged gunmen, under arrest here in connection with the political row in the fifth ward on primary election day, Sept. 19, which resulted in the killing of a policeman and the blackjacking of several politicians, were expected to testify today at the hearing of Mayor Smith and other defendants on charges of conspiracy to commit murder, aggravated assault and violation of the election laws.

One of the prisoners, Jacob Maschia, is alleged to have fired the shot that killed the policeman. Several of them are said to have confessed their part in the affair and to be ready to repeat their statements on the witness stand. They are alleged to have been brought into this city from New York for election work in the fifth ward in the interest of Isaac Deutscher, candidate of the Vore faction of the republican party for councilman nomination.

SENATE VOTES TO PROBE SPEECH BY SEN. LAFOLLETTE

Scope of Inquiry is Limited By Action of Committee On Privileges

INQUIRY PROBABLY WILL BE MADE AT SAINT PAUL

Senator Pomerene of Ohio Will Be Chairman of Committee

(Associated Press Telegram) Chicago, Oct. 5.—The flying squadron of 1000 Liberty-bond salesmen of Chicago today telegraphed to congress a resolution demanding the expulsion of Senator LaFollette.

PRELIMINARY INQUIRY.

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, Oct. 5.—A formal preliminary inquiry into the alleged disloyal speech of Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin, made before the Non-Partisan League at St. Paul, Minn., a fortnight ago, was ordered today by the senate privileges and elections committee.

Appointment of a sub-committee of five members was directed with authority limited first to inquire into the correctness of Senator LaFollette's speech, and, second, into the correctness of his statements made therein.

The limited scope of the inquiry was regarded as temporary action upon the numerous petitions presented to the senate for the Wisconsin senator's expulsion. The sub-committee, which probably will be appointed during the day, and will be headed by Senator Pomerene of Ohio, was ordered to report at the December session of congress.

The senate committee took up petitions charging Senator Sorensen, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, with disloyal statements and acts and decided that the charges made did not warrant any investigation of the Missouri senator.

The senate committee's decision was reached after a two-hour session and with a speech in the senate by Senator LaFollette. The sub-committee was authorized to request authority to employ stenographers and make other necessary expenditures, indicating that formal hearings may be had with possible examination of witnesses at St. Paul.

The resolution for authority to make the sub-committee inquiry and for its general authority was scheduled to be brought before the (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3.)

KERENSKY DEFIES NEW CONGRESS AND NAMES A CABINET

(Associated Press Telegram) Petrograd, Oct. 4.—(Delayed)—Premier Kerensky's reply to the demand of the democratic congress that no step toward naming a cabinet be made without the sanction of the congress was a notification that before another day expired he would announce the personnel of a new coalition ministry, which already had been chosen. This announcement was made to M. Tseretelli, of the main committee of the congress.

Late tonight, after a lengthy session of the present cabinet and the others scheduled to occupy portfolios in the new one, the following unofficial slate was announced:

Premier, M. Kerensky; minister of foreign affairs, M. Terestchuk; minister of the interior, M. Kikint; minister of agriculture, M. Masloff; minister of labor, M. Skoboleff; minister of supplies, M. Prokopovitch; minister of finance, M. Bernatzky; minister of relation, M. Karshchik; minister of public welfare, M. Kishkin; minister of trade industry, M. Konoroff; state comptroller, M. Symonoff; minister of justice, M. Malynovich; minister of education, M. Salaskin; president of the ecumenical council, M. Tretyakoff; minister of war, General Verkhovsky; minister of marine, Admiral Verderski.

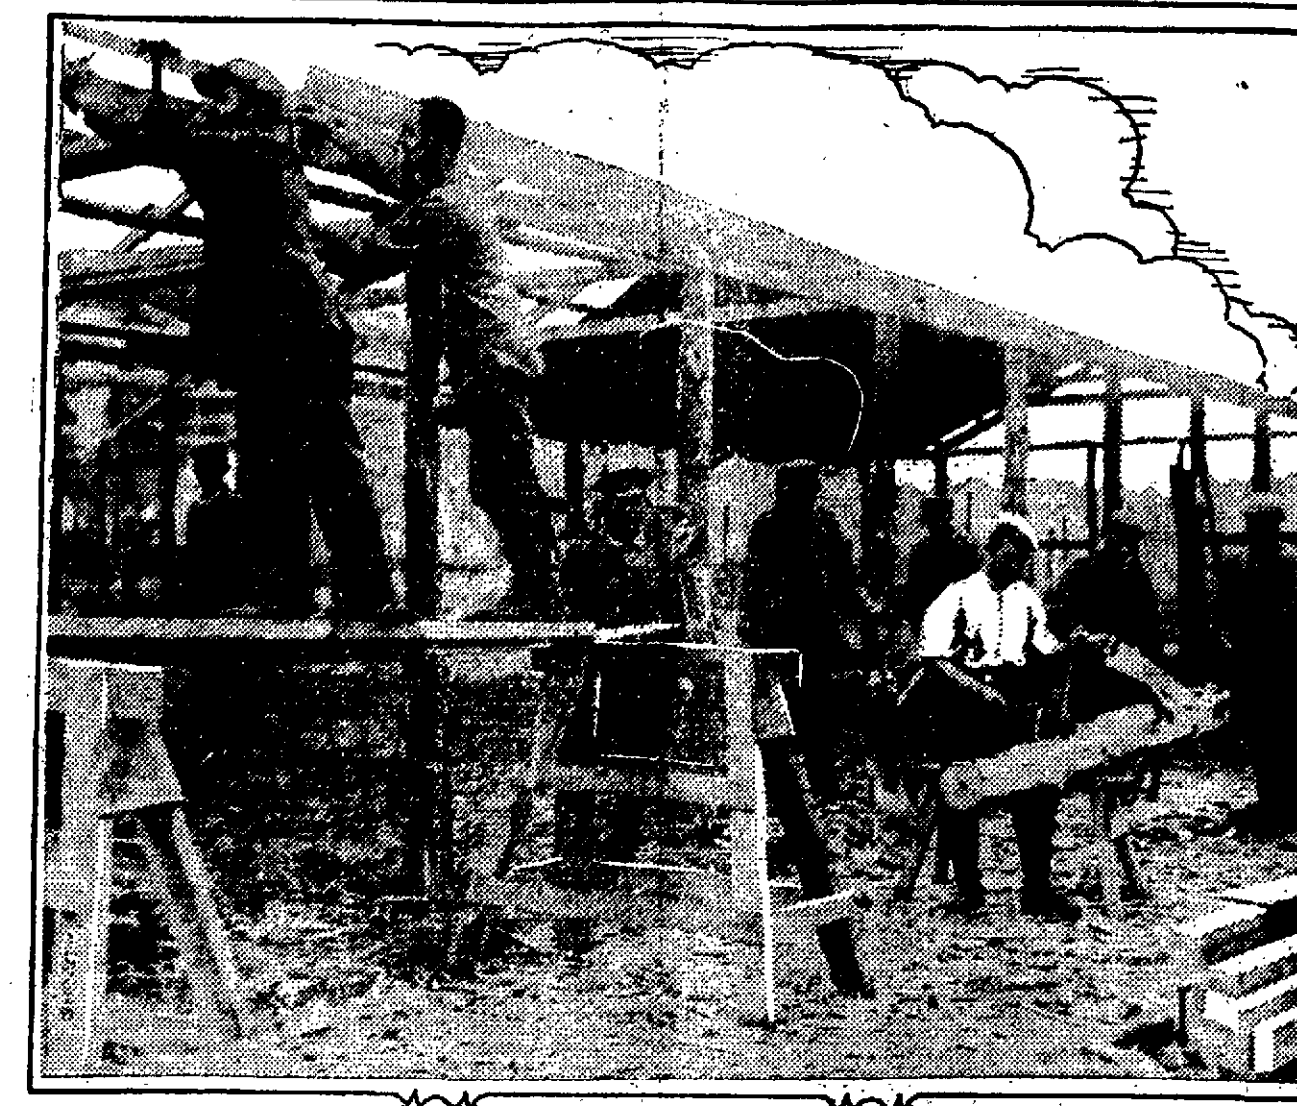

The constitutional democratic party, against which the democratic congress has been in opposition, is represented by Kishkin, Konoroff and Symonoff. The portfolios of foreign affairs, war, marine, and interior, remain unchanged.

WANTS AUTHORITY FOR PEACE.

(Associated Press Telegram) Petrograd, Oct. 4.—(Delayed)—The democratic congress by a vote of 339 to 100 has passed a resolution declaring that it is indispensable to constitute a strong revolutionary authority which would follow the program of the Moscow conference of last August and would carry out an active policy tending to the realization of general peace.

The congress directed the main committee to choose five of its members to draft a scheme for forming such authority. The resolution was prepared by the committee representing all the parties in the congress, and sets forth the uses and principles agreed to by a majority of the congress. The resolution was submitted to the congress by M. Tseretelli, former cabinet minister.

Building their winter quarters. German prisoners in England, who have been living under canvas all summer, have been set to work constructing wood huts, in which they will be housed for the winter. A forest close by one great camp is being stripped to make lumber for the prisoners' quarters. The photo shows some of the captives in this camp putting up the framework of a hut.

FIVE GERMAN DIVISIONS CAUGHT IN BARRAGE OF BRITISH GUNS; COUNTLESS THOUSANDS KILLED

(Associated Press Telegram) London, Oct. 5.—The Germans have undertaken no further counter-attacks against the positions east of Ypres gained by the British in yesterday's offensive, although they kept them under a heavy fire during the night. The British are consolidating their newly won ground.

British arms today achieved one of the greatest victories of the war in a tremendous assault begun at dawn against the German positions east and northwest of Ypres. Indeed, when the whole story of this battle has been told it may take its place as an unequalled triumph of three years of conflict, for each successive report from the seething cauldron along this front adds to the importance of the success recorded.

From a point near the Ypres-Staden railway on the north of the Ypres-Menin highway on the south, the men of the British empire have surged forward with an irresistible force which at some places carried them to a depth of 2,500 yards over still more of the German keystone positions in the Passchendaele-Gheluvelt ridge system of defense. On the northern wing of the advance, the British have reached Poelcapelle and Gravenstafel and have over run most of the Gravenstafel ridge, which juts out to the west from the Passchendaele-Gheluvelt. South of the Ypres-Roulers railway the troops are reported to be overlooking the western slopes of the main ridge and in some places to have pushed on into the valley below.

Not only have the British wrenched away many vital strongholds, but they have inflicted almost unprecedented casualties on the enemy. As the attacking troops went out in quest of a great adventure over the mist-shrouded slopes, their vast protective artillery barrage caught in its merciless swirl large numbers of the enemy who by coincidence also had been massing for an early morning attack along a wide front extending from the neighborhood of Zonnebeke to the Polygoon road. Some five divisions of German troops were involved, three of these having been rushed up in reserve to support their comrades in the front line when the German attacks should begin. A solid wall of breaking shells played through them in a hurricane of death and they lie in countless thousands amidst the devastation that the heave left in its wake. Part of these ill-fated troops were the famous guardsmen in whom the German emperor has taken such pride in the days gone by. But these massed troops were not the only ones to suffer for reports from prisoners all along the line indicate that the Germans lost heavily throughout the territory involved.

Taking the battle as a whole the Germans offered weak resistance to the British advance this morning. But despite the heavy blow dealt to the enemy it was not considered probable that they would make strenuous counter-attacks as soon as they could reform their shattered forces.

The story of today's fighting is that of perfect organization, which worked with clocklike precision. It was still dusk when the British broke the steam roller advance, for low hanging clouds blanketed the country and a light drizzle was falling. For days an intense bombardment had been maintained over the German front, but the artillery fire which opened as the great barrage dropped was appalling. Guns of all calibers, from enormous howitzers to light field guns, joined in the infernal thunder which shook the countryside like an earthquake. Solid lines of vivid fire belched from the earth and from the sky above as the great shells and shrapnel burst along the German line. The ruins of the little hamlets perched on the ridges stood out in ghastly silhouette against the flashes and over the whole scene the clouds threw back a crimson glow.

On the left of the advance the ground in the region of Poelcapelle was not in bad condition, except along the Strombeck river where it was very marshy, necessitating a slow advance. The tanks operating with the troops here did excellent service, reducing a number of strong redoubts and concrete pill boxes. Poelcapelle was well garrisoned, but apparently did not offer strong resistance.

U. S. NAVY HUNTS GERMAN RAIDERS IN SOUTH PACIFIC

Definite Information Has Reached Capital Regarding Seadler's Crew

MASTER OF SHIP CAPTURED REACHES SAMOAN ISLAND

Seadler Was Stranded In Society Island and Abandoned By Her Crew

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, Oct. 5.—With definite information of the presence of two German sea raiders in the south Pacific ocean announced in dispatches from Samoa to the navy department, a hunt for the commerce destroyers has been set in motion. The two raiders are manned by the crew of the famous Seadler, which made her way late last year from Germany through the allies' patrol into the Atlantic, southward around South America, preying on shipping, and thence to the South Pacific where she stranded on Mopeha Island and had to be abandoned. The Seadler destroyed three American sailing ships, the schooners A. B. Johnson, Manila, and C. Slade, in the South Pacific. When stranded the Seadler had about 27 white men and 17 native prisoners, who, with the crew, reached shore in safety.

Part of the Seadler's crew put to sea again in a power sloop armed with machine guns, bombs and two months' supplies. Early in September the French schooner Lutetia arrived at Mopeha from Tahiti and was seized by the remaining members of the Seadler's crew who put to sea Sept. 5. The prisoners were left on the island to shift for themselves.

Captain Hador Smith of the American schooner C. Slade and three other prisoners, left the island in an open boat and reached Samoa Sept. 29 where the news of the sea raiders was made known to the American naval authorities.

The number of the raider's victims beyond the four mentioned in the dispatches from Samoa cannot be ascertained. At least four American owned vessels are reported overdue on the Pacific coast from South Pacific ports and their owners have abandoned hope of their safety.

British, Japanese, and American warships will scour the South Pacific for the two German raiders.

PAYMASTER SHOT; AUTO BANDITS GET AWAY WITH $4,000

(Associated Press Telegram) Cleveland, Oct. 5.—Police and detectives were searching the city this morning for the two masked bandits who late last night shot the paymaster and night watchman at the plant of the Cleveland Hardware company, held other employees at bay with their guns and escaped in an automobile with nearly $4,000 and a shower of bullets. The $4,000 was to be paid the two hundred men employed at the plant on the night shift. The paymaster was shot through the hand and sustained a bad scalp wound from a blackjack in the hands of one of the robbers, Charles Kefauver, the night watchman, was shot through the left shoulder. Both men will recover.

After a preliminary checking up today, the amount of money taken by the bandits was placed at $7,000 company officials announced.

PRISON TERM PROMISED REVOLT LEADERS IN ITALY

(Associated Press Telegram) Rome, Oct. 5.—The authorities have discovered that various campaigns intended to demoralize the country, resembling those recently exposed in France, had been undertaken here. The ministry of justice has promulgated a decree providing that all persons guilty of acts calculated to depress public opinion diminish the country's power of resistance or prejudice the national interest as regards the internal, foreign or military situation shall be imprisoned for not more than ten years and fined not more than 10,000 lire.

CONTENDERS FOR WORLD TITLE ARE READY FOR GAME

Cold Rain Ends and the Weather Man Insists Sun Will Shine

WHITE SOX IN PRELIMINARY PRACTICE AT BALL PARK

Ticket Scalpers Fooled By Baseball Officials—Only Few Are Offered

(Associated Press Telegram) Chicago, Oct. 5.—A rain so frost bitten that it looked much like snow today broke over the stage set for the first of the world series games here tomorrow, but the man in the weather tower ignored it and said, with conviction: "Fair and cool tomorrow." Then he added: "There may be frost. This rain is just a little puff—nothing to it."

He had scarcely finished his explanation when the guest blew itself out. At the American League grounds the sudden cessation of the down-pour brought sighs of relief. The sod and base lines were unimpaired and interrupted batting practice was resumed by the Chicago team. Manager Rowland had invited the New York Nationals to use the grounds at any hour, but the visitors were not expected until after noon. After the practice, Manager Rowland called the men together in the club rooms and they exchanged views and hopes with each other.

The New Yorkers were late in appearing in the lobby of their hotel, but when they did, they attracted marked attention. Many representatives of the minor leagues were present. They were inclined to laugh at the discomfiture of the ticket brokers who seemed to have been outmaneuvered.

One important broker had been twenty tickets for sale, and he had been so impressed with the array opposed to him that each purchaser was merely given a receipt for his money in the hotel ticket office. This the purchaser had taken to a room, visited for the night, and across the street, to exchange the receipt for the real ticket. These tactics, it was said were adopted so that in case of a raid the hotel might not be embarrassed. Another speculator had but 12 tickets. The brokers received many inquiries with bids ranging from $50 to $75 for box seats, but there was no rush, apparently due to the widely advertising measures adopted by President Comiskey to keep the tickets within legitimate channels.

Among the minor leaguers early on the ground for the series were James C. McMill, owner, and Jack Hendrix, manager, of the Indianapolis club; O. L. Wathen, owner, of the Louisville club; George Tebeau, of Kansas City manager, and Ed Powell, president of the International league.

It was expected that the line hoping to obtain bleacher seats would be formed tonight. In anticipation of this the hotel concessioners at the park were busy today preparing frankfurters and rolls to sell them. Also they will have hot coffee to cheer them through the long cold vigil of the night.

A person known to many followers of the Chicago Nationals as "Loose" gained the distinction of being the first person in line.

"Loose" was up at 5 o'clock this morning with bag of lunch and took up his position in front of a ticket window. There he stood alone until the rain began to fall. Observing that no line was forming he took a chance and deserted. He will be among the first in line tonight, if not the first.

GEN. PERSHING SAYS AMERICAN AID TO DEFEAT GERMANY

(Associated Press Telegram) American Training Quarters in France, Oct. 5.—General John J. Pershing, the American commander, in an interview today took exception to the statement which, according to information received here in being spread throughout America by means of German propaganda that the war on the western front will result in a stalemate. He denounced as an effort to weaken American initiative. "America has resources in men and material, once they are prepared to add weight to the allies which must force a military decision against Germany," said the general. He added that the American troops were imbued with the spirit of aggressiveness and victory.

CONGRESS BREAKS ALL RECORDS IN APPROPRIATIONS

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, Oct. 5.—Chairman Martin, of the senate appropriations committee, in a review of the achievements of this session of congress and of appropriations and contract authorizations for the fiscal year 1918, issued today, says the session breaks all records.

The session, he said, has been marked by a greater volume of legislation and the enactment of measures of more momentous import than have ever been considered in any similar period in the parliamentary history of the country.

Total appropriations aggregate $16,301,966,515, which, with the total appropriations for the second session of the sixty-fourth congress and the total contract authorizations for the present fiscal year, makes a grand total of $21,330,729,940 in appropriations and contract authorizations for the present fiscal year.

"Congress," Chairman Martin's statement adds, "has scarcely taken time to eat or sleep because of the responsibilities which the war has imposed."

"Any criticism leveled at the senate and house growing out of the impatience to place the country upon a war basis at the earliest possible moment," said Mr. Martin, "in my judgment is unfair and indicates a lack of appreciation or knowledge of the enormous amount of work which the house of congress have performed. Responsibilities of long duration and momentous in character have been knowingly, carefully, and, I honestly believe, intelligently assumed by the membership of congress."

NEUTRALS CAN GET FOOD IF PROMISES ARE GIVEN TO U. S.

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, Oct. 5.—Final decision of the United States regarding the adoption of a permanent embargo on shipments to Sweden, Norway and Denmark, it was said today, depends entirely on awaited assurances from the Scandinavian governments that no leakage of American exports to Germany will be permitted.

That the present embargo is not permanent was emphasized in a statement of the exports administration board that the matter was still under consideration.

MICHIGAN MAY SELL COAL TO CONSUMER TO STOP SUFFERING

(Associated Press Telegram) Lansing, Mich., Oct. 5.—A proposal that $500,000 of Michigan's $5,000,000 war emergency fund, be expended in state-purchase and sale of coal to householders without profit, to relieve the threatened fuel-famine in Michigan, was before the state coal committee today. The proposal was made by the Michigan war-preadness board which based its action on its duty to protect the public in war-time.

So acute has the fuel shortage in Michigan become that several large industrial plants already have been compelled to close down.

SLAV GOVERNMENT RESTORES ORDER IN TURKESTAN REGION

(Associated Press Telegram) Petrograd, Oct. 5.—The government has declared a state of war in Turkestan, where revolutionary movements broke out early this week. The situation appeared to be becoming normal, when it suddenly flared up again.

As a protest against the sending of a punitive expedition to the council of workmen and soldiers' delegates in Tashkent, the capital has proclaimed a general strike. A Petrograd dispatch dated Oct. 1 said General Cherkess, the commander in Turkestan had been attacked and beaten and that other officers had been seized by irresponsible elements among the troops. It is reported that a temporary revolutionary committee had been organized to take all power and that the people were in a panic.

Russian Turkestan is composed of four provinces in central Asia, east of the Caspian sea, with a population of about 6,685,000.

AMERICAN TROOPS WILL SPRING NEW THINGS ON ENEMY

(Associated Press Telegram)

French, Oct. 5.—To carry on for the next six months or a year with the best that the French and British have evolved as a result of their three years war experience and to do our own experimenting entirely on the side, is the gist of the policy which has been largely adopted by the American army now in France and recommended to Washington. This policy applies to material and various instruments of war as well as to tactics and methods of handling men in the trenches.

While many of the more serious students of war among the American officers believe beneficial improvements can be worked out by American ingenuity, inventiveness and resourcefulness, they realize the most important problem just now is to get on with the war. They believe America can most quickly become a striking force in the war by taking the best of what the British and French have proved to be useful and effective and basing all building programs of the near future thereon.

In the matter of tanks, for instance, officers who have made a special study of the subject think there is much to be said in favor of both the giant British tanks and the smaller and faster French tanks. They believe the American army should adopt both styles as an emergency measure, building them immediately while American engineers are working out what may prove to be a vast improvement over any tank now existing. There has been some disposition on the part of a certain circle to believe tanks because the Germans have made little use of them. The tank, however, is distinctively an offensive weapon while Germany on the western front is fighting a purely defensive campaign.

Both Great Britain and France seem to be putting every possible facility at the disposal of the Americans who are studying both styles of fighting tactics. The fact that these styles are changing constantly is one of the fascinations of the great game of war. Americans also are engrossing the attention of the army in France. The great weight of the Americans in airplane construction is expected to be felt eventually in this branch of the service.

sistance. The British were within reach of the town by 10:30 o'clock. Meantime others were making their way over Abraham Heights near Gravenstafel. There was some cellar-fighting here but it was brief. The main trouble was encountered near the fort where the Germans had eight strong concrete redoubts. Sharp fighting followed, but the Germans finally were forced, with rifles and bombs, to surrender. Both Poelcapelle and Gravenstafel are masses of ruins. The latest reports show the British have swarmed over virtually all of Gravenstafel ridge. South of the Ypres-Roulers railway, which cuts the Passchendaele-Gheluvelt ridge where the Gravenstafel arm joins it, the British were on the crest of the ridge or beyond it throughout the remainder of its length. They had little trouble in reaching it. There was a brief battle near Molenaershoek crossroads, which were fortified. Just north of here the Germans held a farm from which they poured heavy machine-gun fire into the British ranks until the place was subdued.

Prisoners were secured in Polderhoek and the Chateau near there was carried after sharp fighting. Joist farm near the southeastern edge of Polygon wood, which had been a sore spot to the British for days, still held out at the latest reports, although the British had pushed behind on both sides. This was the only snag of the kind encountered as far as is known.

Broodseinde, which lies on the ridge, was the approximate center of the day's attack, and here was the deepest point of the advance. From this village the line tapered off gradually to the north and the south.

SEVEN TOWNS; 3000 PRISONERS.

New York, Oct. 5.—British soldiers now are entrenched on the crest of most of the high ground in the famous Ypres salient as a result of a tremendous blow given the Germans yesterday on an eight-mile front, east and northeast of Ypres. Driven from the high ground the Germans now will be forced to go up hill against the British while the British artillery throws shell after shell upon the German defenses and lines of communication.

Field Marshal Haig's latest stroke surprised his adversaries as they were about to renew their attacks against him. The British barrage mowed the massed Germans down and those that remained were annihilated in the rush of the British troops. At no point along the attacking front was the German resistance very great, although the British had difficulty in overcoming the concrete redoubts bristling with machine-guns.

The villages of Rentele, Noordhoek, Polderhoek, Molenaershoek, Broodseinde and Gravenstafel were captured in their entirety and the greater part of Poelcapelle was taken.

By the capture of Broodseinde the senate later today and many thought debate in connection with the proposed speech of Senator LaFollette replying to the charges of his critics.

The sub-committee expected to hold a preliminary meeting late today and begin its inquiry next week. The general expectation was that public hearings would be held at which Senator LaFollette would be given an opportunity to be heard.

Senator Pomerene made it plain that the sub-committee's authority is limited solely to the St. Paul speech, and does not extend to any other actions or charges against the Wisconsin senator.

A letter from Senator Stone denouncing imputations and reflections in the petitions and other communications on file was presented to committee and made the basis for its action as to him. Senator Stone offered to appear before the committee, but it was held that investigation was unwarranted and so that the record discloses that though Senator Stone opposed the declaration of war he has since it was adopted voted for all such measures considered by the senate on which a record vote was taken.

The report as to Senator Stone was drawn by Senator Walsh of Montana.

The committee's action both as to Senator LaFollette, and Senator Stone was unanimous. No record vote was taken.

While the course of procedure has been definitely outlined, the sub-committee proposes to ask Senator LaFollette to appear. He will be asked whether the copy of the St. Paul speech before the committee is as he delivered it. The sub-committee also proposes to call William J. Bryan to question him on Senator LaFollette's statement that Mr. Bryan several times urged President Wilson to prevent the sailing of the Lusitania because it was alleged an ammunition cargo was aboard.

All committee members emphasized that the scope of inquiry ordered is extremely limited solely to the accuracy of Senator LaFollette's St. Paul speech and the accuracy of statements therein—and is not to be regarded as a formal inquiry into anything else.

Senator LaFollette refused to comment on the committee's action but it was understood that it would not change his plans to make an address in the senate before adjournment following criticisms made.

Senator Pomerene made it plain that the sub-committee's authority is limited solely to the St. Paul speech, and does not extend to any other actions or charges against the Wisconsin senator.

A letter from Senator Stone denouncing imputations and reflections in the petitions and other communications on file was presented to committee and made the basis for its action as to him. Senator Stone offered to appear before the committee, but it was held that investigation was unwarranted and so that the record discloses that though Senator Stone opposed the declaration of war he has since it was adopted voted for all such measures considered by the senate on which a record vote was taken.

The report as to Senator Stone was drawn by Senator Walsh of Montana.

The committee's action both as to Senator LaFollette, and Senator Stone was unanimous. No record vote was taken.

While the course of procedure has been definitely outlined, the sub-committee proposes to ask Senator LaFollette to appear. He will be asked whether the copy of the St. Paul speech before the committee is as he delivered it. The sub-committee also proposes to call William J. Bryan to question him on Senator LaFollette's statement that Mr. Bryan several times urged President Wilson to prevent the sailing of the Lusitania because it was alleged an ammunition cargo was aboard.

All committee members emphasized that the scope of inquiry ordered is extremely limited solely to the accuracy of Senator LaFollette's St. Paul speech and the accuracy of statements therein—and is not to be regarded as a formal inquiry into anything else.

Senator LaFollette refused to comment on the committee's action but it was understood that it would not change his plans to make an address in the senate before adjournment following criticisms made.

The plans are all necessarily temporary in their nature and must await formal approval by the governing national bodies behind the party named in the conference.

The selection of a temporary national executive committee was on the program of the conference today.

CAMP SHERMAN BOYS "SEE" WORLD SERIES ON BIG SCORE BOARD

(Associated Press Telegram)
Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, Oct. 5.—Camp Sherman selective service men will watch the world's series games play by play at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium, it was announced today. Major General E. F. Glenn has put his stamp of approval on arrangements that have been made for a big score board to show the plays as they are flashed here by wire and will see that as many men as can be accommodated in the auditorium are relieved from drilling during the hours of the games.

Another bit of gratifying news yesterday brought happiness to the thousands of baseball fans in the camp. It was definitely announced that the Cincinnati and Cleveland clubs will come here for an exhibition game. In view of the fact that both are Ohio clubs and practically all the men here are Ohioans and followers of one or both of the teams, an enormous crowd will greet them. Preparations are under way for the building of a good playing field.

While the pleasure of preparations is getting attention "on the side" the hundreds of Ohio and West Pennsylvania selectees coming in are getting their start in the military game. Cleveland was scheduled to have 1,317 men in before night fall and other big contingents are coming from Mahoning, Trumbull and Lucas counties. Smaller quotas were reported from Fairfield, Monroe, Perry, Champagne, Clark, Madison, Wood, Hancock, Harding, Logan, Erie, Crawford, Seneca, Wayne and Holmes counties.

All the men are being put through the first paces almost before they realize they are here. Those who came Wednesday and yesterday were getting first lessons in drilling today.

Two hundred more selectees were discharged today as physically disqualified. Some were "five per cent. men" who came the week of September 5 and others from the 40 per cent. quota that reported the week of September 19. After all the defective men have been sent back home from these two quotas, the ones coming in this week will have their turn.

RETURN GUN FIRE FOR THE GERMANS' CIGARETS

Petrograd, Oct. 5.—The Germans on the southwestern front again are attempting to fraternize with the Russians by throwing boxes of tobacco and cigarettes into the Russian trenches and calling to the soldiers to "come out of the trenches."

The Russianolia says in connection with the German attempts that "our soldiers are answering them with gun fire."

BRITISH CRUISER SUNK BY TORPEDO; 17 ARE KILLED

London, Oct. 5.—The British cruiser Drake has been torpedoed and sunk, according to an admiralty announcement tonight.

The Drake was torpedoed Tuesday morning off the north coast of Ireland. She reached a harbor, but then sank in shallow water.

One officer and 13 men were killed by the explosion. The remainder of the ship's company was saved.

WHITE SOX FANS PICK CICOTTE TO START SERIES

(Associated Press Telegram)

Chicago, Oct. 5.—The reserved seats for the world series game at White Sox park having been distributed among the lucky applicants, hundreds of baseball fans planned to stand in line tonight in order to have advantageous positions when the office opens at the park for the sale of unreserved seats tomorrow.

The weather prediction for the opening game tomorrow calls for fair weather, with a slight drop in temperature. This, followers of the game say, will not work any hardships on either team, as both squads are in the pink of condition and will not feel any slight change in the weather.

Scalpers, who had promised to have plenty of tickets for the opening game, were busy today making deliveries to a few customers and returning money to others. Their supply was said to be far less than the demand.

At the first appearance of the tickets at the offices of the brokers, $50 was asked for one ticket, good for three games, for which $15 was charged at the park. As the supply of tickets in their hands became exhausted, the scalpers began to talk of a rise in price, and it was predicted today that the price might be double the amount first asked before the game is called tomorrow afternoon.

Grandstand reservations, selling at the park for $1.50, were not to be had from the scalpers, although one broker offered to deliver tickets of this class Saturday noon at $15 for the three games.

Much interest today centered on the question of the two pitchers in the first game. Manager Royland of the White Sox, refused to commit himself, but many have picked Eddie Cicotte as the probable starter for the local team.

Ferdinand Schupp, the left-handed star of the New York Giants, is the most frequently mentioned to open the series for the visitors.

That out-of-town fans are not to see the games in as great numbers as had been expected was stated at White Sox headquarters today. Requests for tickets in large numbers from several cities had been received, but were turned down or the allotments cut.

In speaking of the tickets sold in other cities, Charles A. Comisky said that while he had been accused of sending 5,000 tickets out of town, the fact of the matter was that less than 500 had been sold to foreign patrons.

Two sets of box-seat tickets, auctioned off yesterday by a local newspaper for the benefit of the soldiers' smoke fund, brought $140.

The tickets were purchased by two friends of Mr. Comisky, who came here from the Pacific coast to see the games, only to find that all tickets had been sold.

The Giants will practice at White Sox park this afternoon. They will be given all the time needed in order to become accustomed to light and shadows peculiar to the park.

John J. McGraw, manager of the Giants believes that his team will win the championship, but he says that he has not underestimated the strength of the White Sox.

"As for the real dope on the series I should say the chances are about even," said McGraw. "Without boasting about my own, I will go on record as saying that two cracking good teams will play for the world's pennant. I have a strong team, and the boys are confident of beating the White Sox, but still I do not look for anything soft."

"Rowland has a good pitching staff and so have I. The capabilities of the rest of the men on both teams are pretty well known. We, however, think we can hit any pitcher the Sox have. Probably they figure the same way with us, so it is still even. It should be a hard series."

McGraw said he would not protest Eddie Cicotte's so-called shine ball or Dave Danforth's delivery.

"These are no games for protests and besides I would not question anything that Charles Comisky is back of," he added.

NEW YORK SALE ON

(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, Oct. 4.—President Harry N. Hempstead of the New York National League baseball club will not see the opening games of the world series at Chicago, it was learned today. He will remain in New York and supervise the sale of tickets to the games here next week.

Mr. Hempstead announced that there will be no public sale of reserved seats for the games in New York. The 9,000 upper tier seats at the Polo grounds already have been taken, he said, by members of the clubs in the two leagues and local patrons who annually buy seats for the season. All the lower grand stand and bleacher seats will be unreserved, however, and will be sold on the day of each game.

The gates of the Polo grounds will be opened at 9 o'clock in the morning on each day of the game.

GERMAN PASTOR INDICTED FOR INSULT TO LOAN WORKERS

Minneapolis, Oct. 4.—The federal grand jury yesterday returned an indictment against the Rev. C. L. Lehnert, former pastor of the Central German Methodist church, who is charged with mailing a letter to the Minneapolis liberty loan committee containing "language of a nature to incite arson, murder and assassination."

J. O. Bentall, one-time Socialist candidate for governor of Minnesota, was charged with violation of the espionage act.

HERE'S CHANCE TO SEE WAR FROM BALLOON

Army Inaugurates New Service—Balloon Observers in War Given Front Seats.

Word has just been received today of perhaps the newest and most interesting branch of the army. This new branch of the service is for the purpose of making observations from captive balloons. The most exciting moments are when these captive balloons are picked as targets by the enemy aeroplane, at which time the observers, who always have parachutes firmly attached to their persons, jump out of balloon basket, even though they are three or four thousand feet from the ground, and float down to safety while the friendly air ships immediately arrive and attempt to drive off the attackers from the unoccupied balloon.

To those who were unable to gain admission to the Officers Training Camps, for one reason or another, this is your opportunity. The government wants men of the calibre of officers for the United States Army and they must be between the ages of 25 and 35 years. The lowest rank is first lieutenant, with pay of $2,000 per year and 50 per cent extra when in active service.

This is an opportunity for well educated men, preferably graduates of technical colleges with athletic training who have had broad experience and who have demonstrated their reliability and accuracy of observation. The course of instruction is a little over two months. Those who are successful in passing the examination for commissions will be sent immediately to France and put into action at once.

It is suggested that those interested get in touch with Mr. E. C. Wright, local branch chairman of the Military Training Camps Association, who has application blanks for distribution and details concerning this new branch of the service which is bound to become very popular. Only a limited number of applications can be received for this branch, therefore, if you are going to investigate this proposition do so at once. Mr. Wright is cashier of the First National Bank, Newark.

GUYNEMER'S SLAYER IS KILLED SOON AFTER BATTLE

Amsterdam, Oct. 5.—According to the Cologne Gazette, it was Flight Lieutenant Wissemann, who since himself has been killed shot down Captain Guynemer, the French aviator, by his last letter to his parents, Wissemann, according to the newspaper told them not to be anxious for him, for he never would have a more dangerous enemy than Guynemer.

THE GOOD OFFICER.

It is surprising how big some men feel when they get to be corporals or sergeants. They swell around as if they were generals, and issue orders not so much to get things done, as to display their authority and enjoy it. They strut around a camp and will scarcely speak to private soldiers, even is former neighbors and friends. They are now a lower order of being. It should be one of the benefits of the officers training camps that this type of man has been largely weeded out.

The qualities that make a good military officer are not common and it is an inborn gift. The soldiers, for the good of all, have learned to submit their individual wills. Many times they are called upon to do things that seem poor judgment to them, but it is theirs to obey and not to question.

Where the individual will and judgment is thus subordinated to one man or group of men, the commanders need a very special endowment of judgment and good feeling in order not to abuse their extraordinary power. If they must assert their superiority of judgment, that superiority must be manifest or the officer will obviously be unfit for his responsibility.

The competent officer does more than issue orders. He should be a student of the capacities and the condition of his men, and protect them from such weaknesses as may interfere with their usefulness.

If soldiers can feel that they are being watchfully looked after, they will go a great way in personal daring and endurance to please their superiors. Some eccentricities of manner on the part of commanders will be tolerated and strict discipline will be accepted. Many of the soldiers are reckless young fellows with little thought of their health and little experience in caring for themselves. The officers should watch over them as a father does over his boys. If this is done the morale of a fighting force can be greatly improved.

FALL CLEAN-UP.

One of the humors of American life is the tremendous stir made all through the spring-time for cleaning up of home places and streets while in the fall interest languishes. Clean-up weeks have become very common in the spring, but after the vacation season the idea is dropped.

As a matter of fact clean-ups are even more needed in the fall than in spring. Vegetable and flower gardens have become weedy with stalks and vines and refuse. Litter accumulates fast, and when the fall comes, it is time for another grand scrumage.

One of the incidental benefits of the garden movement should be that it has accustomed more people to work out of doors. Formerly most men were very lazy about doing anything around their homes. At the same time the loafing habit was such that they would lounge around or go off to the usual hangouts.

The garden movement has now taught a lot of people that getting outdoors for tasks about the home does not necessarily mean added fatigue. It should be only a pleasant change of work. After a man has taken hold and trimmed down the edges of his grass, pulled up weeds and removed litter, the better appearance of his place will give him satisfaction well compensating for the effort.

Many people take much pains about the care of their places in spring and summer, but they are indifferent about them in fall and winter. But disorder shows quite as much in the latter season, when there is a lack of natural beauty to help out appearances. A trim and

THE AMERICAN CAMP IN ENGLAND

By Gertrude Lynch of The Vigilantes

London, Sept. 15.—(By Mail.)—On one of the most beautiful, if not the most beautiful, upland in England, several miles from London, is situated the American camp. There I found the vanguard of our tremendous army, soon to be sent overseas.

Our party of journalists, carefully shepherded by an official from the Foreign Office, was motored to the edge of a plateau dotted with white and brown specks. The white specks slowly resolved themselves into khaki-clad soldiers. Two magnificent silk flags greeted us—one presented by Governor Beekman of Rhode Island. On another flag pole the Stars and Stripes and the Union Jack twined and twisted together.

The turf made me think of the American woman who asked a British gardener how he made the grass look like velvet. "You roll it, and roll it, and roll it, and keep on rolling it for a thousand years," he told her. Far away are low, undulating hills, while the slopes and meadows are covered with a mauve and magenta carpet—Scotch and English heather growing together.

Our men say that the round bell-tents of the British in which they are housed are the finest ever. One of them told me more about them. "When it blows you have to go out and tighten the ropes," he said; "when it rains you loosen them, when it rains and blows you sit on the floor in the middle of the tent and hope for the worst."

Each tent housed eight men and in each were invited to inspect the tenants—men who came from California, Iowa, Illinois, Maine, Florida, Rhode Island, Wisconsin and Texas. The kits, piled in the center of each tent, weigh 75 pounds. There are no flies anywhere—and no odor, except the pungent one of cooking.

We reached the out-of-door culinary section just in time to see the queues form, each man holding an aluminum outfit, cup and platter in his hand and spoon in the other. The former is handy when eggs and bacon are cooked in the morning and the latter holds a "slide" of vegetables. We saw served a substantial dinner—soup, coffee, mutton and two vegetables—squash and potatoes. After eating the men filled the kettles of boiling water, washed the dishes and rinsed them at pumps.

If a man wants a second slice of bread they let him have it—but

IF PERSHING IS MADE GENERAL.

(Pittsburgh Gazette Times.)

If the request of Secretary of War Baker that Congress elevate Major General John J. Pershing to the rank of full general is granted, Gen. Pershing will be the first American soldier to attain such rank in time of war and will enter the distinguished company of Grant, Sherman and Sheridan, the only men who have held such rank since the government was organized. The former grade between major general and general, that of lieutenant general, was abolished in 1907 and General Miles retired, is the only holder. Congress wishes to raise General Pershing without giving him the high honor conferred on the three Civil War heroes it must revive the rank held by General Miles.

It is interesting to note that our three generals succeeded one another in the title and that it was held by only one man at a time. The plan now is to confer the rank on the commander of our expeditionary force and also upon the Chief of Staff, the reason being obvious. The reason for the contemplated change is found in the necessity of giving our military representative abroad a grade corresponding to the highest given by Great Britain and France.

While the topic is being discussed, one finds it worth while to recall that the rank of lieutenant general, given to Winfield Scott in 1852, was revived for the benefit of General Grant when he was placed in chief command in 1864. In 1866, the grade of general was created by Congress for the first time and Grant was promoted to it, being succeeded as the only lieutenant general by General Sherman. When General Sherman became President, General Sherman was elevated to the full generalship. He was succeeded in the highest military office below the Presidency by General Sheridan in 1888. So it is seen that if present plans go through, General Pershing will have a unique honor. The subject is certain to elicit some interesting comment in Congress.

TO A WORSE DEFEAT.

(Indianapolis Star.)

Lord Northcliffe, in addressing the American Bankers' Association meeting in Atlantic City, said, "Financially Germany lives in a circle and can go on a long time spending her own money among her own people." That is true, but does not help the German situation in any respect. Germany has been going on a long time spending its money among its own people. It can continue to issue war loans to be subscribed and paid for by money the government printing presses are turning out. It can force its manufacturers and merchants to take that money just as Villa forced the use of his money in territory he dominated. There is nothing back of the vast pyramid of debt and evidences of debt except the credit of the German empire. Conservative financiers estimated last spring that the debt owed in Germany at that time had reached a point where the entire income of the nation would not suffice to meet the interest charge. Interest is being paid now by issuance of more money. That process may be continued indefinitely, while Germany is at war and the people can be made to stand for it, but it is merely staving off the day of reckoning.

Germany, according to a prominent statistician, was bankrupt six months ago. Its condition is worse each day the war is continued and the only hope is, as Von Tirpitz says, gradually the American soldier is being trained out of the idea that "he hasn't enough to eat unless there is something to throw away."

Did you ever smell camp cooking on an English upland in September, cooking done in small, narrow trenches dug in the ground, zigzagged with metal strips on which the kettles are placed, a woodfire underneath? Believe me, it is good! The roasting is done in what our men call "Mexican Ovens"—ovens that have been used for a long time by British campers. They are shell-shaped, semi-ovals of metal covered with clay in which a hot fire is made, raked out, the articles to be cooked placed therein, and the entrance closed up—in reality a fireless cooker on a large scale. Every one of our regiments has brought the full complement of army cooks. Besides these, there is a kitchen police for which men are drafted to clear away and do odd jobs.

Of course the British Tommy comments on the American accent, and in the off hours when the men fraternize our men admit that it is hard to "get onto the Atkins line of talk." Outside of this they are chary of criticism.

Husky, healthy, firm-muscled chaps are our regulars. They say they have grown soft on board ship, but are remedying this with daily drills and long hikes. There is no doubt but that Mr. Atkins is a trifle smarter in his set-up. Our men have spickeen teeth and are not quite so blasé as Tommy, nor so "fed up" with everything, particularly the war. One of the British soldiers who was gazing up about pointed to a man on the drill ground and said "See that chap, he had lots of bits clipped off him at Mons." It's the casual way in which Mr. Atkins says this that makes the impression.

Our men are in splendid condition, the allied feeling grows stronger and stronger every day, and judging from the lightning of jaws, from the firm look in the eyes, from the something indefinable about the set of the shoulders when the word War is mentioned, we know they intend to do their part to bring about a glorious peace—a peace which will include the civilization and freedom for which their forefathers fought.

"Why, this war is the biggest stunt pulled off in two thousand years," one of the boys said to me, "I wouldn't have been a stay-at-home for two thousand dollars."

Spirit of the Press

They Love Night Life.

Dr. Garfield, in his campaign to save coal, intimates that he is to make the "Great White Way" of New York City dark. This has caused the Gothamites to loudly proclaim that should he do so, he might as well follow in the footsteps of Malone when he gave up a government job to line up with the suffragists. Making Broadway dark would be to New Yorkers like striking the whole world blind.—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

It may go on, as Lord Northcliffe says, piling up debt and spending its own money among its own people, but Germany should realize that they are already defeated, if "peace without a heavy war indemnity means German defeat." They never will get a cent of indemnity from the United States. It is equally certain that Great Britain, France, Italy and our other allies have no intention of paying tribute to Hohenzollernism. Germany may go on for a while, but it is only to worse defeat.

DON'TS FOR SOLDIERS.

(Ohio State Journal.)

It is hoped the war will teach Germany a lesson and our own people several of them. In camp Fort Harrison they have laid down a few rules that tend to glorify America. They will leave an influence when this war is over that will leave this republic stronger than it ever was. Here are the rules for the student officers, who must not.

Drink intoxicants at any time.
Smoke when on duty.
Smile or flirt with fair admirers—even when the girls smile first.
Eat candy on the streets.
Use profanity at any time.
Tell on-color stories.
Put hands in pockets or fold them over the chest.
Wear white collars at any time.
Go out of cantonment on week nights.

Have autos or horses around training camp.
Have a valet.
Wear civilian clothes at any time.
Work on Sundays.
Be slovenly at any time.
Indulge in "horse-play" or school-boy frolics.

We have at various times suggested these "don'ts" as the points of a good soldier. Whoever obeys them will come out of the war a grand man. He will maintain a personality that will make him a success in whatever he does. The right discipline makes not only a true soldier, but a noble citizen.

Who Got the $50,000 Bribe
"As on Former Occasions?"

The Bernstorff revelations show that Germany had an elaborate system here a few months ago for influencing our Congress, and as the New York Times remarks, "If Germany was spending money to organize disloyalty within the United States when she was at peace with us, she most certainly did not become high-minded and stop if the moment she went to war with us."

That part of Count von Bernstorff's note in which he asks permission of the Berlin foreign office for "authority to pay out up to $50,000 in order, as on former occasions, to influence Congress through the organization you know of" in the opinion of the Boston Transcript "gives us a good lead for inquiry into and effective prosecution of some of the traitorous societies that were doing Germany's work and getting paid for it." The general belief of editorial observers, however, seems to be that the mysterious "organization" operated by bombarding the legislators with telegrams. Senator Wadsworth, of New York, declares that "about the time Bernstorff sent that message I received four hundred telegrams in one day."

CAMP SHERMAN NOTES

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM

Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, Oct. 5.

There never was a sand-lot crowd of boys or a back alley gang of urchins who took more pleasure in their game of baseball or marbles or hop-scotch than soldiers of Camp Sherman takes in games that start after each day's drill here. Even the games that make up a part of the day's task are gone into with a spirit and enthusiasm that one scarcely would expect to find outside that of boys of the teens.

One favorite game is practiced with the men—perhaps a whole company—formed in a circle. Each man bends or stoops over with his head toward the center of the circle and his hands extended back behind him.

An officer then takes a wet towel or heavy cloth and starts running around the outside of the circle behind the men as does the boy or the girl in "drop the handkerchief."

But, instead of dropping the towel behind a certain man, it is placed in his hands as they are held back of him. Then the man turns on the fellow at his left and starts flogging him with the towel. It is up to the fellow at the left to start running as quickly as he can, going completely around the circle and back to his old position. The one with the towel is privileged to hit him as often as he can and is scored accordingly. Usually the company is divided into two parts, with a man of one squad next a man from another squad, and the scores or "beating" of the opposition is chalked up on a blackboard.

Another favorite game and one that is designed especially to develop the "wind" of the recruits is to divide a company in two parts and station the halves 50 yards apart. The men of each squad are lined up in a row. The man on the right end of each row is given a handkerchief and a relay race starts. The man on one squad runs as fast as he can to the man on the left end of the other squad 50 yards distant and delivers him the handkerchief. This man then returns it to the next man in the other squad, showing all the speed he can muster in getting it back to the starting point.

In this way, a "criss cross" relay race, one end of each squad running against the other, is run and the men developed with each race. There are scores of other games, all designed to develop the man, yet each with its athletic purpose and rivalry.

Captain Frank A. Huber of Columbus, member of the last Ohio legislature from Franklin county, is commanding officer of Company I,

330th Infantry—one of the companies that go to make up the so-called foreign legion, as the 330th has been designated because of having so many foreigners. Company

I is 65 per cent foreign. Company from Belmont, Monroe and Noble county, Ohio, selectives. Thirty-six members of the company cannot speak English. Fifteen languages are spoken by various members, one man alone being fluent in five.

Captain Hunter's first move was to name interpreters. And now he is learning bits of the various languages himself, so he can drill his men. He had learned "attention,"

"right dress," "squad right" and some other of the more important commands in several languages.

Where possible, he gives the command three or four times, each in a different language. His interpreters also repeat his commands, so that the whole company understands when the execution command is given.

It is one of the numerous ways the commanders of units of the "Foreign Legion" are going about instructing their companies, composed of men the majority of whom could not understand even the most simple orders in English.

Well, the boys have got 'em. Real honest-to-goodness guns have been handed by a few select selects at Camp Sherman.

The United States Enfield rifle, longer of barrel and more comlicated around the breech but reported for American bullets and adopted for use along with Spring-fields and Krag-Jorgensen, has "showed up" and now there are a bunch of the most highly polished, cherished weapons in Camp that any division of any American army ever boasted.

The trouble is, there are just 100 of the new guns. That doesn't mean much in a camp of 20,000 soldiers eagerly awaiting the day when they receive their first firing iron. In fact, only one gun is claimed by each company of soldiers at Camp Sher-

GERMAN POWER IS PASSING FAST

Comparison of Situation Now and a Year Ago.

ALLIES IN FAR BETTER CASE

Time Is Working for the Allies—Germany's Military Strength Is Wearing Out, While Her Internal Troubles Are Daily Becoming More Aggravated—U. S. Counted On.

If one compares the war map of 1915-1916 with the war map of 1917, the advantages in favor of the allies on the main front, i. e., the western front, stand out in clear relief; but the attention must not be allowed to remain fixed on a number of square kilometers—be the number large or small—which have already been gained or which still remain to be taken. Very often the taking of the smallest portion of ground has more significance than a victory gained over a large area; the enemy expends more than he reckoned on, more than he should. There has been attrition.

It is this which we are now going to prove, says the New York Sun, by comparing the German military situation in 1916 to that of this year.

Situation in 1916.

The allies are reduced, one after the other, to the defensive.

The French had resisted admirably at Verdun, where German military power certainly attained its climax; shortly afterward the French had enough energy to undertake, in company with the English, the battle of the Somme on July 1, which was not decisive.

The Italians, having seen their front pierced for 60 kilometers between the Lake of Garda and the height of Asta, recovered themselves, but were then stopped after the fall of Gorizia.

The Russians were checked after their splendid offensive in June between the Propet marshes and the Roumanian frontier.

The Oriental army had not been able to advance beyond Monastir.

Lastly, Roumania was invaded.

However, after the taking of Bucharest on December 19, Germany took the principal points of which we must remember:

Development of submarine warfare. Creation of 23 new divisions, 13 of which were to be ready by March 15.

Organization behind the lines of the fortified position known as the Hindenburg line, which was considered impregnable.

We will not here attempt to determine to what point of efficiency the first part of the plan has been brought; it does not, however, appear that Germany can ever obtain decisive results by her submarine warfare, which on the contrary involves her in heavy expenditure of men and materials.

The second part has plainly failed; 13 divisions only have been formed up to the present. They appear to be but of mediocre value, old men and quite young boys making up the numbers. It is true, however, that they have not been regularly recruited, the men having, it seems, voluntarily enlisted.

The third part of the plan did doubtless at the beginning meet with full measure of success. The Hindenburg line, on which during many months thousands of soldiers and even prisoners worked persistently, as well as the men and women of the invaded district, was a masterpiece of fortification; certain strategic works will remain as models in the history of modern war.

Hindenburg Line Damaged.

The object of this line was to guarantee a necessary respite for the reorganization of the German army and for an effort on other fronts by opposing an impassable obstacle to the imminent offensive of the French and English. The famous "spontaneous falling back" of the German forces on this line proves to what a point of exhaustion they had come.

The Anglo-French forces did not follow this dilatory method; in April they took up a vigorous offensive and damaged the Hindenburg line in several places.

This battle of the Aisne and of Champagne (April 16 to May 16, 1917), which will go down to posterity as one of the most sanguinary battles of the war, not only assured to the allies the conquest of the positions—the importance of which was indisputably revealed by the fury of the battles and counter-attacks—but it had a considerable effect on the military situation and the German military strength.

On the Verdun front from February, 1916, to February, 1917, Germany had engaged 56 divisions and a half, 14 of which went to the front twice and six three times.

From April 9 to May 11, 1917, i. e., in one month only, 84 divisions were portion of officers captured; out of 6,700 men there were 600 officers. Now during the offensives of 1916 the allies only took 208 officers out of 11,000 men. We have here an undeniable proof of the diminishing value of the German army and of the waste in the officers' ranks.

Allies in Far Better Case.

To the data given above it is easy to make the following objection: If Germany has suffered losses which seriously compromise her reserves, is it not the same or even worse with the allies?

First of all, it is not worse. The allied front is not so vast, and it has been proved, moreover, that in their method of fighting the Germans use more men, either because their general staff professes a certain contempt for what it calls "human material" (let us not forget the hecatombs of the Yser, of Verdun and the Somme) or because they persist in the efficiency of attacks in massed formation. But then these tactics seem to be necessary, because the German soldier, taken individually, does not possess the qualities of "go" and initiative which distinguish the French, as their morale is not always good and also because the best units have depreciated little by little since they selected from their ranks the elite elements of the famous "shock troops" (stosstruppen).

And meanwhile time is passing. Besides her interior problems, which are becoming daily more aggravated, Germany has to solve a real crisis in the wearing out of her military strength. "Mitteleuropa" is not, whatever one may say of it, a fairy country which escapes the laws of natural equilibrium; a single glance at the map shows that her reservoir of men must mathematically—even with equal losses—be dried up more quickly than that of the allies, which is being continually refilled from all the corners of the globe.

The Oriental fronts may momentarily bend, but in any event they consume thousands of men, and the moment will come when the famous "General Winter" will begin his terrible offensive from the Baltic to the Black sea.

United States Counted On.

And all this time, the United States, with invincible determination and methods, is preparing fresh armies whose military qualities, organization, training and equipment will before long be the admiration of the whole world.

Normal opinion cannot therefore but logically concur in the opinion recently expressed by Judge E. H. Gary, president of the United States Steel corporation, in the press: "In any event it is only a question of time before the allies must be successful."

Time is working for us. From 1914 to 1917 France has built up, from the Yser to the Marne, before Verdun, Nancy and Belfort, the wall in the shelter of which they have set to work. The important point is that the wall holds; it held its own before a formidable Germany when it was still but a weak protection; before a Germany growing weaker every day it is holding. It will hold until the moment when the concentration of the allied and American forces brings about the supreme offensive.

CENSOR PRESENTS PUZZLE

Readers of French Paper Enter a Guessing Contest.

A surprising result of the French censor's activity appeared on the first page of Oeuvre recently. In the upper right-hand corner of the first page the editor had inserted a column cut, undoubtedly the picture of some man of considerable importance in the day's news, but who the readers of Oeuvre will have to guess.

Evidently there is some reason in these days of cabinet reconstruction and revelations of Bolo Pasha's activities why the publication of this man's picture is inopportune, for the whole upper part of the face has been cut off and there only remains to puzzle the readers a picture of a man from the chin down. Where the features should have appeared is the word in large letters, "censored."

SIX WHALES A FORTUNE

Killings Made in Short Sea Trip Worth $15,000.

Six sperm whales in two days' hunting, a killing valued at $15,000, was the luck which the hunters of the Bay City station in Lower Gray's Harbor, Wash., had recently.

The sperm whale, highly prized for the supply of high grade oil which it produces, is the most valuable of the five species of whale taken off this coast.

Now that oils are high in price an average sperm is worth about $2,500. In a normal catch of 300 whales per season at Gray's Harbor plant only from six to ten are sperm. A catch of six sperm in two days breaks all records.

FLAG SHORT ON STARS

Criticized Until It Was Discovered to Be Civil War Relic.

"Why don't you get a flag that is made right?" asked a friend of L. S. Chase of Minneapolis. "There are only 35 stars in the one that is flying over your house."

"That flag is fifty-six years old," Mr. Chase answered. "It contains but 35 stars for the reason that there were only 35 states in the Union when the flag was made in 1861. That flag also saw service in the Civil war. It was owned by my brother, O. F. Chase, a lieutenant in the Union army."

The friend doffed his hat in reverence to the flag and moved on.

The pot may call the kettle black, but it doesn't always pan out.

initiative in making overtures of peace. She appeared to be fatigued.

The weight of the war had certainly fallen more and more on her shoulders, especially after the irremediable weakening of the Austrian army, which at the time of the Russian and Italian offensives lost 800,000 men. We will only mention the weight of the Turkish and Bulgarian armies by way of remembrance.

From the point of view of numbers the repercussion of the sanguinary battle of the Somme made itself felt. Germany was really undergoing a continual wearing out process in order to face—with losses of unforeseen magnitude—the danger which threatened her everywhere on the enormous front of the unique battlefield, which stretched from the North sea to Riga and to the Balkans. She was obliged to make a prodigious effort since June, 1916, to form 38 new divisions (of which it is true only seven were complete, the remainder being formed by a levy on the units already existing), while from August, 1914, to June, 1916, she had only formed 50 divisions.

These formations were only created by utilizing to the utmost limit all the reserves, by the calling up of those recovered from their wounds and the young classes, and by diminishing the number of battalions in the regiments and the number of regiments in the divisions. The method of supplementing the lack of soldiers by numerous war materials of the highest order did not solve the problem, as the construction of this material requires strong healthy arms; to this end, then, and to meet other industrial or agricultural necessities Germany did not hesitate to trample once more under foot the international conventions and proceeded to the exploitation of prisoners of war.

In a word, at the end of 1916 the powerful German military machine was already broken and shaken to its fundamentals.

Situation in 1917.

Peace overtures not having come to a successful issue, it seems that Germany decided on a war plan, the three massed by the Germans on the Aisne and Champagne front. Seven of these divisions were said to have been brought up twice.

During that period the booty of the Anglo-French troops amounted to: 49,579 prisoners (976 officers), 444 guns of different caliber, 943 machine guns, 386 trench guns.

Of the 43 fresh divisions brought up by the Germans to the French front from the beginning of April, and which constituted the supreme strategic mass, that which was to render possible the famous "Hindenburg surprise," there remained only ten divisions intact in July. Four-fifths of the German reserves had been thrown into the furnace; the ambitious plans announced with great bluster in the German press during the winter of 1916-17 had all come to nothing. Italy invaded, Petrograd and Odessa taken, as well as Dunkirk, Calais and Boulogne, the army of Salonica driven into the sea, etc.

The Recent Offensives.

And suddenly in August, 1917, came the new allied offensives; there was the successful battle of Flanders and the English surrounded Lens. The French, shattering forever the dream of Verdun, which cost the German empire so dear, thrust back the army of the crown prince in a few hours to its former lines. The Italians made a formidable advance toward Trieste, seizing more than 20,000 prisoners from the Austrian rout. And on the Baltic front Riga still held.

The above efforts certainly had further effects on the German reserves. For instance, during the course of the German defeat of August 20 on the Aisne a reserve division was annihilated. Irony of fate! It was the Sixth division of Brandenburg, particularly popular and particularly held in high esteem by the Kaiser—the same division, or rather what remained of it, which reached Danzig on February 25, 1918, which event was heralded with so much bluster in the white German press.

One of the peculiarities of the above-mentioned German defeat was the pre-

Nerv-Worth.

The following unsurpassed endorsement was recently given to Druggist Baer, the Nerv-Worth distributor at Wheeling:

"I have been fighting in the trenches for years against my enemies—Rheumatism, Stomach Trouble, Nervousness, Indigestion, Constipation and Sleeplessness—and the one big shell with the big explosive that put them all to rout was Nerv-Worth. When I walked into your store two weeks ago and procured a bottle of Nerv-Worth, I could hardly navigate from weakness and rheumatic pains; but now, after using one bottle, I am out of the trenches of sickness and feel fine for one of my age—72 years. All my aches and pains have left me. Can eat heartily and relish my food. No more indigestion or constipation. AND NO RHEUMATISM. Sleep soundly. I shall keep on using Nerv-Worth until I gain my full strength. It is the only remedy I have been able to find in all my years of ailments that did me any real good. I recommend it to all—old and young."

HIGH SCHOOL HAS A SPLENDID COURSE FOR WINTER SEASON

A varied course of entertainments, one which will appeal to the tastes and likes of past-patrons of the high school entertainment course, will be presented this year beginning October 26. The following is a list of the dates and talent to be offered:

October 26—Cecil Fanning, baritone, is ranked today as one of the best singers in the world. The New York newspapers last year paid him a very high tribute. The London papers also were loud in his praises during his tour of 1913. The London Daily Express says: "Mr. Cecil Fanning, who gave a recital yesterday at Bechstein Hall, is a young baritone who has won laurels in many countries. His voice which is full and resonant is well controlled and capable of varied tone-color." The Theaterland, London, says: "Mr. Cecil Fanning, the distinguished baritone, has just returned from an extensive tour in most of the European cities where he scored tremendous triumphs on his merits as a concert singer." Mr. Fanning will have for his accompanist Mr. H. B. Turpin, who is well-known in the musical world.

November 9—The Samoloff Company, consisting of four people—Leonid Samoloff, tenor, Vivian Holt, soprano; Rosedale, composer- pianist and accompanist. This musical organization is unsurpassed, according to press reports and those who have heard them.

November 30—C. Crawford Gorst, "The Bird-Man." Mr. Gorst lectures on the "Musical Genius of Birds." He gives a program of 20 minutes of whistling novelties in connection with his narrative on "Birds." This lecture ought to appeal to the young especially.

January 11—Judge Geo. D. Alden, lecturer. The following is what Senator Warren G. Harding says of him: "I have heard Judge Alden twice. I have heard him 'Needs of the Hour' and his 'Powder and the Match.' Already the public has passed upon the former and pronounced it one of the best lectures being given today, but his new offering I consider superior in every way. He handles the intimate subjects of life with a boldness which might offend were it not given with the evident purpose to uplift and enlighten. He does not 'hint,' he speaks with an utter freedom of language, bold but beautiful, caustic but chaste; the truths which he seeks to impart are driven home with a force which thorough conviction alone can give. I was charmed with its subtle humor and admired the beauty of its diction, but above all I would most heartily commend it to every Lyceum Course in the country for the great and important truths which it so strongly sets forth."

January 24—Francis Neilson, lecturer, was a member of the British parliament, January, 1910, to December, 1915. He is one of the big men of Great Britain. He is the author of many books such as "The Crucible," "The Butterfly on the Wheel," "How Diplomats Make War," "Prince Ananias," "A Strong Man's House." He has a dozen lectures, each equally strong. One of his greatest is "Secret Diplomacy and Sudden War," another "Internationalism and World Peace."

February 8—The Zoellner String Quartet. The quartet consists of Antoinette Zoellner, first violin; Amundus Zoellner, second violin; Joseph Zoellner, sr., violin; Joseph Zoellner, jr., violoncello. This organization has been together for six seasons, and is recognized as the best string quartet in America today.

February 21—The Pierces, readers and impersonators. It is not known now just what Mr. and Mrs. Pierce will give, but probably a miscellaneous program of short sketches.

March 1—Dr. G. Whitefield Ray,

A GREAT CHANGE ENTERS INTO LIFE OF STOREKEEPER

A certain unassuming gentleman in this city who happens to be a prominent dealer, and who up to a few weeks ago had become a recluse because of his physical condition, tells this remarkable and most interesting tale:

"For a number of years," he said, "I have been so closely confined to my business working zealously to make my store representative in every respect that wear and tear finally got me, my face became drawn and haggard and my disposition seemed to urge people to evade me. It was then that I began to despise my own company. My bookkeeper, who has been with me a long time, one day suggested that I needed a rest and that my nerves required attention. She told me that her father had been in the state of health which I was experiencing and that he had taken Phosphated Iron. 'Look at him now,' she said. 'He works ten hours a day and appears to be the happiest man in the world, which he believes he is, he says.'"

"All this happened less than a month ago. I followed the advice and look at me now. Back in the harness with a smile all the while. I am feeling more fit than ever. When I see a tired-looking face the name of Phosphated Iron immediately comes in my mind. I am convinced that it is converting many a worn-out body into a life rich in thought, ambition and enthusiasm."

Special Notice—To insure physicians and patients receiving the genuine Phosphated Iron we have put up in capsules only, so do not allow dealers to substitute pills or tablets, insist on the genuine in capsules only.

Prominent men and visitors from all over the country attended the dedication. On the list of speakers were such men as former President William Howard Taft, Secretary of War Newton D. ### PLANS FOR WINTER INTERRUPTED BY PASTOR'S INJURY

Plans for resuming the fall and winter activities in the church of Rev. John Montgomery of Piqua, were rudely interrupted by the accident in which both the pastor's legs were broken last Saturday afternoon. Rev. Mr. Montgomery was attempting to crank his automobile, failing to observe that the clutch had not been disengaged. The car lunged forward as the engine started and Mr. Montgomery was crushed against the wall of the garage. The bumper on the front of the car struck the minister on both thighs, breaking both bones at the same place.

Rev. Mr. Montgomery was just preparing to drive to a junction point near Piqua to meet Rev. Shelby Vance of Cincinnati, who was to take part in the special centennial service in Mr. Montgomery's church the following day. A special program had been prepared for the event, and while it was carried out as the pastor had intended, the accident cast a gloom over the congregation.

No pastor in Piqua is more popular than Mr. Montgomery and the feeling of regret in the city is general and he has the sympathy of Piqua people, not only those in his own congregation but in the city at large.

Mr. Montgomery was for some time pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city, many of whose members are his warm friends.

DETECTIVE'S WIFE AVENGES HIS DEATH; SHOTS HIS SLAYER

Associated Press Telegram
Kansas City, Oct. 5.—In revenge for the killing of her husband, Arthur N. Dorsett, a city detective, Mrs. Anna Dorsett last night in the crowded Jackson county criminal court room shot and seriously wounded William David Jones, a negro minister, who was on trial for the murder of the officer.

"Thank God, now I am avenged!" Mrs. Dorsett cried.

"Get him again," urged Mrs. Helen Schaefer, Mrs. Dorsett's sister, when the negro, still alive, tumbled over under a table, and she too, attempted to fire a shot. Officers in the court room disarmed the women and placed Mrs. Dorsett under arrest on a charge of assault with intent to kill. She was released on a $2,000 bond.

Order was restored in the court room and within thirty minutes the jury returned a verdict of guilty against Jones, providing for a sentence of fifty years in the state penitentiary.

Officer Dorsett, with a fellow detective, John Clifford, was shot by Jones on the night of August 6 while investigating the alleged theft by the negro preacher of a dog. Dorsett was killed almost instantly and Clifford was seriously wounded.

SOX AND GIANTS EVENLY MATCHED FOR BIG SERIES

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

New York, Oct. 5.—When the Chicago Americans and the New York Nationals, respective winners of their league championships, meet in the opening game of the 1917 World Series at Comiskey Park, Chicago, tomorrow, the contest will bring together teams of virtually equal offensive and defensive strength. So far as it is possible to ascertain in advance there is little if any advantage in favor of one or the other combination. Any analysis of the work of the individual players and the teams as units shows that if there is a preference in one division the margin of strength is counterbalanced by the opponents' edge in another department of the play.

Both the White Sox and the Giants are clubs of unusual calibre with brilliant young players holding down certain positions while older and veteran professionals, scattered throughout the combinations, steady the teams and give that touch of experience necessary to perfect any machine. If there is any outstanding advantage which will count in the contests of the next few days it may be that the preponderance of players who have taken part in previous World Series will favor the New York Giants. Even this is problematical, however, for the history of this baseball classic is not wanting in examples where youthful players, unnoted by fame, have proved the stars and deciding factors in the battle for the interleague championship.

From every angle of comparison the conclusion is reached that the series about to begin will prove one of the most exciting and closely fought since these contests were taken in charge by the National Commission in 1905 and made an annual climax to the baseball season. A study of the records of the players and the teams in their respective leagues develops the fact that so far as figures and averages can disclose there is little margin of advantage for either club. Taking the personnel of the teams as they are expected to enter the battle, the statistics show that the Giants are a trifle stronger in hitting while the White Sox have a few points the better of the fielding. The National League standard batters appear to have the edge in double plays but the Chicago combination offsets this with more stolen bases indicating greater speed upon the baselines.

It is one of the axioms of World Series play that the winning of the first game carries greater weight than the mere numerical value of victory and for this reason it is customary for the managers of the rival teams to send their best pitcher to the mound in order to gain the lead and have the same twirler available for the third, fifth, even seventh game should the occasion arise. For this reason the general expectation is that Manager Rowland will select Cicotte to face the Giants while Manager McGraw will depend upon Schupp.

Both these twirlers are among the star pitchers of their leagues, with remarkable records for the pennant season just closed. Cicotte is a right hander with a pitching average of .667; earned runs per inning of 1.54 and close 150 strike-outs to his credit for the year. Schupp is a left hander with a pitching average of .731; earned runs per inning 1.92 and a strike-out record which at least equals Cicotte's. With these sensational hurlers working in the initial game and the other divisions of the teams as evenly matched as the accompanying figures would appear to indicate, it can easily be understood why the adherents of the rival clubs are loath to offer odds in financially backing their belief that the home combination will capture four of the seven games necessary to clinch the championship.

The appended tabulations show the records, for the greater part of the 1917 season, of the players who are expected to participate in the opening game. The order of arrangement, however, is not the same as will appear in the batting order for the initial contest:

NEWARK SECOND TEAM PLAYS GRANVILLE HIGH

This afternoon the Newark High second team travels to Granville to meet the Granville High football team. The Newarkites have a strong lineup with Legge, Besanceney, Reed and Hickman on the ends; Geo. Shiva and Sheppard at tackles; guards, Wm. Shiva and McCoot, and Barr at center. The backfield is composed of Henderson, Osborne, McGlade and Cook. The Newark team will be accompanied by a crowd of rooters who will assist the boys in "putting it across the plate." A fast game is expected.

OLD FORT TRACK GETS APPROVAL OF MOTOR RACERS

Newark's big auto classic next Sunday, is garnering considerable publicity throughout Central Ohio and interest increases as the date approaches. Delegations of speed fans are planning to attend from Zanesville, Mt. Vernon, Columbus, Springfield, Dayton, Delaware, Marion, Coshocton and many other Ohio points as well as several in Indiana where some of these drivers have raced before.

From all indications, those who attend next Sunday's races will undoubtedly see one of the largest throngs ever in attendance at Moundbuilders Park to witness the staging of a sporting event. Several of the drivers who are here have tried out the course and pronounce it to be one of the best half mile tracks they have ever seen. They point to the fact that practically three-quarters of it is almost a soucer and is banked much higher than the average "two lap" track. This will make it possible to "open-em-up" and some fast time can be looked for. In fact some of the promoters who are familiar with the track conditions and the style of driving used by some of the drivers entered, predict that some new dirt track records will be made when the starters flag sends off one of the classic field of "dust eaters" ever gotten together on a course of this size.

MARSHALL PLAYS DENISON TEAM AT 2:30 P. M. SATURDAY

Denison's next football game will be played Saturday at Granville, when the Big Red eleven will take on a team from Marshall college, West Virginia. Nothing is known of Marshall's strength, as they have not played here for two years. The Big Red will be handicapped by the loss of Fullback Arthur, who is out of the game with a broken leg. Bucher, an end, will likely take Arthur's place in the backfield, with Leslie and Sperry at the ends. Game will be called at 2:30 o'clock.

To Gas Consumers

The escrow fund is now ready for distribution. It was first planned to mail the checks and a small per cent of them have been placed in envelopes and addressed and will be mailed Saturday, October 6th.

However, it was found to be not only too expensive to mail them but impossible to do so accurately because of the fact that the time covered by the litigation, that is the period in which the over-charge was made by the gas company was from May, 1911 to April, 1916 and since that time hundreds of people have moved, some have died, some have changed their name by marriage, some were burning gas and paying the gas bills in the name of some other person who was a former renter of the house in which they lived, etc., some have moved as many as seven times and had that number of accounts, some were divorced and claim a part of the money by a decree of the court, some tenants were burning gas in the name of their landlord and the tenants claim the money to be refunded although it is in the name of the landlord, hundreds have been attached in proceedings in the justice of the peace courts and other circumstances too numerous to mention.

Because of the above facts it has been found absolutely necessary to have them called for and a room has been secured situated in the Arcade and being No. 16, the northeast corner room at the intersection of the Arcade Annex and being next to the room now occupied by the Western Union Telegraph Co., and the checks will be distributed from that place.

There are approximately 16,000 checks to distribute and it will be absolutely impossible to distribute them all at one time or in one day and there is no way of telling who will call first so that they might be arranged in that order but each person's record will have to be looked up when he calls and his check or checks located.

The checks will be distributed by wards, as follows from 8:30 a. m. to 12 and from 1 p. m. to 4.

- First Ward—Monday, October 8th and Tuesday, October 9th.
- Second Ward—Wednesday, October 10th and Thursday, October 11th.
- Third Ward—Friday, October 12th and Saturday, October 13th.
- Fourth Ward—Monday, October 15th and Tuesday, October 16th.
- Fifth Ward—Wednesday, October 17th and Thursday, October 18th.
- Sixth Ward—Friday, October 19th and Saturday, October 20th.

Find out what ward you live in and call for your check on the days indicated above and on no other day.

Be prepared to tell at once the street and number in which you lived between May 1st, 1911 and September 1st, 1915.

Do not send your neighbor or small children.

If for some reason you can not call for your check on the days named above it will of course be held for you and you can obtain same any time after October 20th, the last day named above.

The receiver has been ordered by the court to pay only to the persons in whose name the account appears unless a written assignment has been previously filed with him, duly authenticated.

Keep this notice for your reference so that you may know when and where to call for your money.

CHILD'S TONGUE BECOMES COATED IF CONSTIPATED

When Cross, Feverish and Sick Give "California Syrup of Figs."

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely. A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is, they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs," because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.—Advertisement.

U. S. NEEDS PLATINUM; GIVE WHAT YOU HAVE Great Quantity of Rare Metal Is Required by War and Navy Departments.

Washington, D. C.—Look in your jewel box and see if you have any platinum there. If so, give it or sell it to Uncle Sam, who needs it to help fight the war.

A great quantity of platinum is needed by the war and navy departments for certain delicate parts of the ignition systems of motor boats, airplanes and motor cars to be used in America's part of the fight against Germany.

Nothing else will take the place of platinum in the manufacture of sulphuric acid, so indispensable for the making of smokeless gunpowder. In the form of "fulminate" it is used for cartridge caps, shell fuses and "detonators" for all sorts of projectiles, and hand grenades and bombs.

Fulminate of mercury also is one of the most powerful of explosives. It is also one of the most sensitive, so much so that it cannot be handled with any degree of safety, except by experts. For war use it is put in small metal capsules, the finest quantity of which is sufficient to start into action the most lazy explosives loaded in projectiles.

This country produces not more than ten per cent of what it consumes in peace times, and Russia, whose output for many years has represented 95 per cent of the world production, is now mining less than one-fourth of the quantity she supplied prior to the war. The precious mineral which some years ago was worth only a little more than $23 an ounce, has today a market value of over $100 an ounce.

The rarity of the metal is seen when the world's production since 1843 has been less than 100 short tons. A great bulk of this amount was found in the Ural mountains, where miners go after it by digging pits to a depth of 15 feet or more, and then burrow, rat fashion, in every direction. Fifteen pounds of platinum is the average yield for every 29 cart-loads of gravel taken out and washed.

MILLIONAIRE STILL WORKS

Soap Demonstrator Inherits a Fortune, But Holds His Job.

There are not many millionaire soap demonstrators in the United States, perhaps not more than one.

There is at least one, and he was in Tulsa, Okla., last week standing guard over a booth being operated during a seven-day demonstration of commodities instituted by a local grocery concern.

To a newspaper man, who had known him some time, he confided his secret. Two years ago he felt heir to property and investments worth $2,800,000, submitting proof of same. His name is William Fritchie and he represents a Kansas City soap company. In addition to being a millionaire, he claims the distinction of being a direct descendant of Barbara Fritchie, the heroine of Whittier's famous poetical effort.

He announces he likes his work, wants to work, and does not propose to permit his wealth to interfere with his labors.

RID STOMACH OF GASES, SOURNESS AND INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapiesin" Relieves Stomach Distress in Five Minutes.

You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad—or an uncertain one—or a harmful one—your stomach is too valuable; you mustn't injure it with drastic drugs. Pape's Diapiesin is noted for its speed in giving relief; its harmlessness, its certain unfailing action in regulating sick, sour, gassy stomachs. Its quick relief in indigestion, dyspepsia and gastritis when caused by acidity has made it famous the world over.

Keep this wonderful stomach sweetener in your home—keep it handy—get a large fifty-cent case from any drug store and then if anyone should eat something which doesn't agree with them; if what they eat lays like lead, ferments and sours and forms gas; causes headache, dizziness and nausea; eructations of acid and undigested food—remember as soon as Pape's Diapiesin comes in contact with the stomach it helps to neutralize the excessive acidity, then all the stomach distress caused by it disappears. Its promptness, certainty and ease in overcoming such stomach disorders is a revelation to those who try it. Advertisement.

FRETFUL BABIES NEED A LAXATIVE

When your baby is cross and fretful the chances are it is constipated and that a mild laxative is all that is necessary to make it comfortable and happy. Inactive bowels are the cause of so much discomfort to children as to older people, and unless the condition is promptly relieved is very apt to develop serious illness.

they will learn the policies of The N. C. R. Co., and will have brought home to them more clearly than ever before the many ways in which this company helps its salesmen "make good."

Through his action in thus bringing together the wives of his five hundred sales agents and salesmen, John H. Patterson, president of the N. C. R. Co., demonstrates that he realizes fully the influence that a wife's attitude may have upon the success or failure of her husband. In an endeavor to give these ladies a better understanding of the value of the work in which their husbands are engaged, and the many advantages of the cash register, from the Merchants' viewpoint, he is willing to spend thousands of dollars for transportation and entertainment for these ladies at this convention. Their entire expenses will be paid by the company, from the time they leave their homes, until they return.

Members of the N. C. R. Women's Club of Dayton, will act as hostesses to the visiting ladies during their stay in the city, and will arrange for their entertainment and comfort. ## FIVE BOYS AND ONE GIRL TAKE WASHINGTON TRIP WITHOUT COST Increased production and conservation of foodstuffs being uppermost in the public mind, the pilgrimage of Ohio boys and girls to Washington and eastern cities on the Sixth Annual Corn Special has taken on a new significance this year. Primarily an agricultural state, Ohio has, this year, striven to outdo herself in increasing yields and preserving the surplus. Her boys and girls have entered heartily into the work, the former raising corn and the latter canning and preserving both fruits and vegetables. Those who have been successful in their endeavors are the ones who will visit the national capitol and there be received and commended for their endeavors by the National Secretary of Agriculture, David F. Houston, by the National Food Controller, Herbert Hoover, and by the President of the United States.

Licking county will be represented this year by five boys and one girl, whose expenses for the week are borne by local people, organizations and business firms. The boys trips are offered by the Chamber of Commerce, Burlington Township Pomona Grange, Bebron Bank, Newark High School and the County Agricultural Society, and the winners will be announced during the coming month. The girls' domestic science work is now complete and has been judged. Miss Thelma Myers of Newark, wins the trip offered by Licking County Board of Agriculture and enjoys the distinction of being known as the county champion domestic science girl.

This band of boys and girls, the greatest number of winners ever making the tour, will be augmented by several hundred of their friends, some having already made arrangements for reservations. The special leaves Ohio Monday, December 3 and returns Saturday, December 8.

COUNTY AGENT CONFERENCE.
A three-day conference for all of the county agricultural agents in Ohio will be held at the College of Agriculture from October 26 to 28. The agents will discuss the work of the year and make preliminary plans for the coming season. Officers of the several county farm bureaus and county improvement associations, as well as the members, are invited to attend.

er, the evidence being lack of lustre.

The woman who values her crown of glory do well therefore, to give her hair special attention the coming season, and it is surprising how readily the average head will respond to a little judicious treatment. Inside of ten days the hair will cease to fall out and within a month its soft fluffiness and lustre will return.

A shampoo never should be given oftener than once in three weeks. Meanwhile the tresses may be kept fluffy and soft by airing, scalp massaged and an occasional application of the dry shampoo. The latter may be resorted to when it is essential that the hair shall present a good appearance and there is no time for the ordinary wet shampoo, drying and curling.

Hold the head over the bathtub and sprinkle the hair generously with talcum powder, tossing the locks this way and that until every bit of the hair has been thoroughly powdered.

Then brush the hair lightly, until all the powder is out. The tresses will assume a soft, fluffy appearance which is so much sought with the new modes of dressing the hair.

Every Day Etiquette

"I am about to be 'best man' at a wedding," remarked Joe. "What are my duties?"
"You should send a gift to the bride. If the groom wishes assistance in planning and preparing for the wedding journey and in looking after the business and social details involved, the best man should be ready to serve him. To the best man as a rule, are given the ring and the minister's fee. These he places in his waistcoat pocket and gives them to the proper persons at the right time," was his father's reply.

OBITUARY

Miss Romaine Stanbery.
 The passing of Miss Romaine Stanbery from the old homestead on East Locust street yesterday deserves more than a passing mention.
 One of the last of Newark's old families, she held to the old traditions. Possessed of much of the intellect, courage and talent of her illustrious father, her dominant characteristics were pride, of race, pride of intellect, and pride of home.
 A familiar and dominating figure in society of an earlier day and of club and library work, she was at the same time the ardent home-loving mother of another day and generation.

Among her household gods she was a queen, and among her cherished belongings she shone with the particular charm of an old-time cordial hospitality. Valiantly she has withstood the ravages of a dread disease for years until death put an end to her suffering. As some one said, far be it from the modern world to produce any more of the wreckers of a once numerous family as almost disappeared from Licking county. But in some subtle way it is still a name that—the heart and from a tangle of disaster, those who know them best pick charms and virtues not insured by efficiency or eugenics.

For one thing they had wit.
 When James R. Stanbery led the bar of Newark, law was not cold, law was law. His whereas was tipped with humor and understanding of the flaws in culprits. His home on the feeder bank, then full of children, loomed large and inspiring to the boys who came sauntering down from the dam to the canal, and a suspicion of something predatory made them hide in the flags ill safely through the big man's precincts.

Filled up is now the feederbed, and cuttled are the flags and cat-tails, but within the old house there are still portraits and sideboards and book-shelves that bespeak a leisurely, a scholarly and a convivial day.

With the death of Miss Romaine, for long the upholder of the family dignity—the home stands empty, but to those who know the multi-form history, it will always be full of the charms and tragedy of human life.

Mary Elizabeth Nell.
 Mary Elizabeth Nell, aged 11 months, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Nell of 141 West Orinand street, died at the home of the parents, Thursday night at 11:30 o'clock. Death resulted from pneumonia.

The funeral services will be held on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home, Rev. C. H. Stull officiating and interment will be made in Cedar Hill cemetery.

Funeral of Infant.
 The funeral of Ester Earl, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shultz of Long Run was held Tuesday at Fallsburg.

You can never tell. Many a straight tip comes from a crook.

GRANVILLE

(Special to Advocate.)
 Granville, Oct. 5.—The town turned out en masse on Thursday to honor the departing soldier boys.
 Hundreds of people assembled on Broadway, citizens, Denison, Doane and Shephardson students with their faculty who had been dismissed from chapel and who marched to the square with flags and waving banners; public school children of all grades with their teachers, boy scouts in uniform. Everybody was there with a flag and the boys were cheering to the echo as their car pulled out for Newark at 11:30. Each contingent bore the American colors, and Broadway gave unmistakable evidence that Granville is alive to the situation. Many went to Newark for the big demonstration there.

The following have been pledged

REPAIRING
 The cool days that are here are only warning us of the winter blasts that are to come. That means you must begin to prepare for winter by keeping the feet dry and warm. Look up those old shoes and bring them to Wm. Fishbaugh & Son and have them mended and put in as good condition as they were when they were new. It will pay you to attend to it at once for you cannot tell what morning you may wake up and find it necessary to don a pair of shoes, and besides its real economy now, considering the high prices paid for new shoes.

DUPONT'S SON KILLS SELF; HAD JUST LEFT A HOSPITAL
 Ogden, Utah, Oct. 5.—Gerald F. Dupont, aged 22, son of the powder manufacturer of Wilmington, Del., and New York City, committed sui-ride by shooting today after leaving the hospital, where he had been for several days suffering from a nervous breakdown.
 The tragedy occurred on a state highway in a thickly populated part of the city, while he was out riding with Miss Marian Browning, the daughter of George E. Browning, a brother of John M. Browning, the gun inventor. Giving as an excuse that he desired to leave the automobile before turning around to leave for the city, young Dupont stepped out of the car and walked back a few paces and then drawing a new pistol from his pocket, placed it to his head and fired. The bullet passed through the head.

The five men Benedict and Edwin S. Prieth, publishers, and William von Katzer, Frederick J. Hartmann and Henry Waechter, were arraigned in $5,000 bail each for a hearing Oct. 16. Agents of the government are in charge of the plant.

COAL TROUBLE
 It is not necessary to pay for dust and dirt when you buy coal. Neither is it necessary to buy a coal that clogs your furnace and chimney with soot. You can get coal that is clean, free from dust, and that will not clog the furnace, that will save you money on your fuel bill; give you the least of trouble, and always produce the right kind of heat when you want it. If you will consult The Dixie Coal Co. They handle that good coal.

There are few changes in the personnel of the New York Symphony Orchestra. Walter Damrosch, conductor, only two members having been enrolled in the national army. These are Engelbert Roentgen, first cellist, and Robert Brown, fifth horn. Until last year Mr. Roentgen was a citizen of Holland. He had taken out his first American citizenship papers and willingly answered the call to don the khaki of the U. S. army. Mr. Roentgen wrote to Mr. Damrosch: "Uncle Sam has already done so much for me that I am glad to do something for him in return." Mr. Roentgen was the soloist last season with the New York Symphony Orchestra at their Newark appearance.

LICKING COUNTY SOLDIERS' LETTERS

(By W. S. Sedgwick.)

Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, Oct. 5.—Licking county today had nearly 200 men at Camp Sherman including the officers who received training at Fort Harrison. The first bunch of selects numbered 18. On Sept. 30th 136 arrived and yesterday's 40 percent brought 136 more. The name of Francis Shaughnessy, 338 Elmwood avenue, was omitted from the published list yesterday. Mr. Shaughnessy is here with the Newark boys. The Licking county selects are assigned to the heavy field artillery. The fellows appreciate the courtesy they were shown in Newark and Granville and all of them prize the engraved bronze medals that were presented just before their departure for camp. On the way down in the train the boys read The Advocate's letter that accompanied each medal and they also took interest in looking over the list of 1400 contributors to the medal fund.

Stanley B. Woodruff is here with his companions. When roll was called of Woodruff was leaning out of the car window, saying good-bye to friends at Newark and did not respond. That is the reason he was marked missing but he is here all right.

Battery B, 324th heavy field artillery had 24 hours guard duty Saturday. Twenty-two Newark boys were picked for duty.

All of the boys who came from Licking county Sept. 20 received their second inoculation yesterday but outside of a little stiffness they are all feeling fine. The boys of the first 5 percent had their third and last "double shot" last Friday and are feeling very much relieved that it is over though nobody was laid up by it. The boys had a treat when every man in camp was taken to review on aerial flight from the Commanding Major of Fairfield Camp near Dayton. The major flew all the way without a hitch or stop and gave a few exhibition stunts—as to looping the loop, dips, etc. It was not only a splendid sight to watch the airplane, but to look over the field and see thousands of soldiers, all making up the new national army. A sight not soon to be forgotten.

The following men from Newark have been made first class privates: C. Hawkins, P. Mossman, W. F. Charles, J. W. Wharton, Jno. King, J. J. Kappes, L. W. Jones, D. E. Shiplett, Geo. J. Brennan, W. S. Judy, H. W. Messner, and M. T. Orr, with five more from the county, and yesterday the following four Newark boys received their warrants as corporals: M. L. Sweetser, Wm. Lanigan, Ross Simpson and Victor Smith. The warrants being presented by the Colonel of one regiment who spoke highly in praise of the Newark battery. Corporal Sweetser is also one supply sergeant.

Before the arrival of the last 40 percent of our quota Battery B consisted of nine men from Newark and same number from Bellefontaine. Today Battery B has seven of its nine men corporals and other two first class privates while Bellefontaine can claim but three of the latter rank, and three of our corporals are now acting sergeants, supply sergeant, mess sergeant, Ralph Priest and duty sergeant Frank Payne. So you can easily see how Newark is holding her own.

There has been quite a great deal of talking in regard to sending 7500 men from our division, the 83rd, to Alabama to fill up the Ohio National Guard. This is true but the men to be sent south are "doughboys" or infantrymen and not Heavy Field Artillery.

Charles Henry and C. O. Burke paid us a visit yesterday and presented the Newark boys with cigarettes—for which we are all very thankful.

No one is complaining of our meals since Ralph Priest has been our mess sergeant—and they have no reason to. Mr. Frank Johnson, in charge of our Y. M. C. A., takes his meals with Battery B.

Sundays are the big days and the camp is over-crowded with "folks from home," bringing eats usually chickens, and smokes to their boys. We have three sergeants from the regular army in Battery B and all made the statement that of all days he hated Sunday, as so many friends came to see us and not a one to him.

The heating and hot water system is nearly completed and even if it is, no one is suffering from the cool nights.

Editor of The Advocate—With my most sincere appreciation of the beautiful medal you so thoughtfully sent me I am completely at a loss to express my feeling in words, but I assure you it is one of my most highly-cherished tokens. And I wish to thank each and everyone who was instrumental in making it possible for you to send such a beautiful medal, and I will strive to bear this medal through any struggles that may arise against the safety of democracy. Thanking you individually for some, I remain, Respectfully, Ernest S. Wolverton, Co. C, 110th Infantry, U. S. A., Camp Hancock, Augusta, Ga.

The Advocate takes pleasure in announcing substantial cash contribution to the soldiers service medal fund from Mr. and Mrs. W. A. McMillen of Granville street, John Somerville and Z. B. Wilcox of Outville. The fund is more than $50 short of the amount required to pay for 750 engraved bronze medals.

Mrs. D. W. Stevenson of West Locust street has received a cablegram from her son Lieut. Leland Stevenson, who sailed recently for France. The cablegram merely stated that he had arrived at his destination. Lieut. Stevenson recently received his commission at Ft. Benjamin Harrison and was one of those who volunteered for immediate service abroad.
